

Long Island 2 Day Walk Update

Many of you might have heard that the LI2Day Walk will be a virtual walk this year in light of health concerns due to the Coronavirus (COVID19). LI2DAY is tirelessly trying to find ways to solicit donations during a health crisis and now volatile financial climate while their beneficiary organizations are trying to provide programs to assist Long Islanders who are fighting cancer. These were unforeseeable events and LI2DAY is doing its best to navigate this as we know all of you are.

On Sunday, May 17th, we are going to encourage our "Virtual Walkers" to walk any distance of their choice to raise awareness and funds to fight cancer. LI2Day is working on ways to have Facebook live videos, Instagram pages where people capture their personal walk...and share with those who are donating to them.

If you have already registered, LI2Day will be taking your $50 registration fee and using it towards your fundraising commitment. In light of the current health crisis, LI2Day has decided to forgo t-shirts in order to put those funds directly towards assisting Long Islanders fighting cancer.

The fundraising period is now – July 25th. Please continue to fundraise as best as you can. The BBCC counts on the funds raised by the LI2Day walk to assist our ladies in need. We are currently assisting over 100 ladies and they need our support! Cancer patients will require even more assistance this year as we are dealing not only with a medical crisis but an economic crisis as well.
